Conversion Services

An ERP conversion can be a daunting and time-consuming task. But the consultants at Agility Business Solutions view a conversion as an opportunity to improve the quality of information used to run a business.

Agility Business Solutions' professionals have decades of experience converting and implementing ERP systems at hundreds of companies.

The team of professionals at Agility Business Solutions understands that a lot rides on the success of an ERP implementation; and they understand what it takes to be successful every time. Isn't that what you want in an implementation partner?

Conversion Services

An accurate and timely conversion is critical to the success of an Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) implementation. Agility Business Solutions' professionals have decades of experience with ERP conversions and implementations. Agility Business Solutions offers a full suite of products and services to ensure that every conversion is completed in a timely and effective manner.

An important part of a conversion is identifying key business processes and determining the appropriate configuration of the new system. Too often companies seek to implement a new ERP system in a way that mirrors existing poor practices. The key to a world class ERP implementation is modifying policies, practices, procedures and philosophies to maximize the effectiveness of the new system.

Data Clean Up and Migration

Agility Business Solutions' analysts have a great deal of experience preparing and conducting conversions. Agility Business Solutions has developed proprietary tools to aid in the conversion process and ensure the validity of migrated data. Agility Business Solutions' analysts test the accuracy, integrity of all converted data. Agility Business Solutions' professionals also test the formatting and data-mapping to ensure that when the cutover to the new system occurs, the new system is ready and the data is sound.

Conference Room Piloting

Agility Business Solutions has worked for years to develop methodology to ensure the timeliness and accurateness of an ERP conversion. An important part of that methodology is Conference Room Piloting. A Conference Room Pilot offers users an opportunity to test data and systems to ensure the viability of the new system prior to 'go live'. Conference Room Piloting turns an ERP conversion into a series of predicable and manageable events.
